The Little Bar Review

The Top 10 things we discovered about The Little Bar when we visited:

- 1) The Little Bar is small, no surprises there. The space inside can accommodate a couple of dozen guests, so keep your gossip catch-ups to a hush just in case the wrong ears are listening. It's even a lovely spot for that elusive date night you keep threatening to go on.
- 2) Or, you could just go on your own, sit at the bar and chat to the owners, Martin and Madeleine, both long-time locals. Before you know it, you'll feel like you're one of their closest friends.
- 3) It's located in the heart of Tooting, South West London's most up and coming suburb, famous for its curries and, increasingly, its gastro pubs and drinking holes.
- 4) The cocktail menu is, like the bar, short and sweet. As well as a heady Negroni, ...read more

"I really want to like The Little Bar, Tooting is in desperate need of a small perfectly formed bar. We have been several times and each time, I am sorry to say, leave feeling a little disappointed and unfulfilled. Its sad, because what does not sit well could be so easily fixed: have an up to date wine list, if something is not available take it off the blackboard menu (the advantage of having a blackboard is that it can be quickly and easily updated), be pleasant and welcoming to all your guests and speed the service up. I don't want to stand at the bar waiting for my order while the barman chats to those sitting in front of him. These may seem like petty grips but add up to feeling unwelcome and a little frustrated with the lack of service and warmth. We do support our local businesses but for the time being other places will be getting our custom. Sorry Little Bar."

"I visited the little bar last week and had a fantastic time. The cocktails were amazing and the food overtook any 'bar snacks' I've had before. If you live in the area (or even if you don't) and
